

INMACO Pty Ltd (Australia) has entered into an agreement with Samsung HI to supply Fire Fighting Equipment for the Jordbaer FPSO (now called KNARR) being built for TeekayPetrojarl.

The scope in the multi-million dollar EPC contract includes Deluge/Foam Skids, Firewater Monitors, Hydrant Stations etc and was won in competition with both Norwegian and Korean companies.

The Knarr field (previously known as Jordbaer) is located in the Tampen area in the northern North Sea and is estimated to contain recoverable reserves of some 70 million barrels of oil equivalents.

INMACO specialises in Safety and Loss Prevention Engineering Services, Fire Protection Systems, Nitrogen Generation Systems. Our expertise lies in technology, product know-how, project execution, integrated solutions and overall customer satisfaction. Through subsidiaries, affiliates and agent networking INMACO's goal is to be a global oil & gas industry provider of safety engineering and contracting services, integrated solutions and high technology products.

INMACO Pty Ltd (Australia) is a 100% owned subsidiary of INMACO AS (Norway). The company is responsible for all projects in Australasia and has the capacity for Project Management, Engineering, Assembly/Testing, After Sales Services, Off-shore Surveys etc.

For more information, please contact:
Managing Director Inmaco Pty Ltd, Morten Benjaminsen
Mail: morten.benjaminsen@inmaco.com.au
Mobile: +61 (0) 4000 30565